

Salix Announces Inaugural Salix Gastrointestinal Health Scholars Program Recipients

June 15, 2020

LAVAL, QC, June 15, 2020 /PRNewswire/ -- Bausch Health Companies Inc. (NYSE/TSX: BHC) and its gastroenterology business, Salix Pharmaceuticals ("Salix"), one of the largest specialty pharmaceutical companies in the world committed to the prevention and treatment of gastrointestinal (GI) diseases, today announced the recipients of the inaugural Salix Gastrointestinal Health Scholars Program. Ten outstanding students living with GI disease who are pursuing their higher education goals will each receive a $10,000 scholarship award.

"At Salix, we understand the complexities of managing GI disease. We created the Salix Gastrointestinal Health Scholars Program to recognize students who are working diligently to achieve their higher educational goals while living with the challenges of a GI disease," said Robert Spurr, president, Salix. "We are inspired by the incredible resiliency and determination each of our winners has displayed in pursuit of their education."

The 2020 honorees were selected from more than 100 applications, based in part on essays sharing their experiences pursuing their education while living with a gastrointestinal condition. In their essays, applicants also shared the role their gastroenterologist, primary care physician or allied health care professional played in helping them reach their goals. The applications were reviewed by an independent panel of judges.

The Salix Gastrointestinal Health Scholars Program recognizes students across a wide range of educational pursuits, with scholarship awards in four categories, including the Undergraduate Scholar Awards for those pursuing undergraduate degrees; the Graduate Scholar Awards for those pursuing graduate degrees; the Working Parent's Scholar Award for working parents pursuing undergraduate, vocational/technical or graduate degrees; and the Single Parent's Scholar Award for single parents pursuing undergraduate, vocational/technical or graduate degrees.
