

Salix Launches GastroHub for Advanced Practice Providers, an Educational Website Designed To Provide Nurse Practitioners and Physician Assistants With Relevant Information for Treating IBS-D and HE

March 30, 2021

LAVAL, QC, March 30, 2021 /PRNewswire/ -- Bausch Health Companies Inc. (NYSE/TSX: BHC) and its gastroenterology business, Salix Pharmaceuticals ("Salix"), one of the largest specialty pharmaceutical companies in the world committed to the prevention and treatment of gastrointestinal diseases, today announced the launch of a new website,

GastroHub for Advanced Practice Providers (APP)

, which offers free digital resources and educational materials for nurse practitioners (NP) and physician assistants (PA) who treat patients with irritable bowel syndrome with diarrhea (IBS-D) and hepatic encephalopathy (HE).

"NPs and PAs have long played a critical role in GI patient care, and with the increasing rise of telemedicine, there is a need for educational resources to improve patient care during both in-person and virtual visits with GI patients," said Robert Spurr, president, Salix. "GastroHubAPP.com, which was developed in close collaboration with APPs and features videos, podcasts, patient discussion guides and symptom questionnaires, aims to aid in the diagnosis of IBS-D and HE in adults."

GastroHubAPP.com

is the third online educational resource that Salix has created specifically for improving patient care in the past year, following

LiverHealthNow.com

"GastroHubAPP.com offers educational resources designed to assist in the care of patients with IBS-D and HE, such as discussion guides that can help patients have more productive conversations about their symptoms with their health care providers," said Christina Hanson, family nurse practitioner at South Denver Gastroenterology, and a consultant in the development of the website.
